Dear Visa Applicant:

You are ineligible, under section 214(b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended, for a nonimmigrant visa because you failed to overcome the statutory presumption that you are an intending immigrant to the United States.

/_____/ You have not been able to demonstrate sufficiently strong family, social or economic ties to a country outside the U.S. that would compel you to leave the United States after a temporary stay.

/_____/ You have not been able to demonstrate that your qualifications and intended plan of study qualify you for the nonimmigrant status for which you have applied.

/_____/ You violated the terms of a prior nonimmigrant visa.

/_____/ Other: _____

_____.

We recommend that you reapply only after your current family, social or economic circumstances have changed significantly or if there are relevant facts that you did not present at your initial interview.

If you choose to reapply within one year from the date of this refusal, you may only reapply in writing through an Embassy-approved courier company (DHL or Hanjin). Your new application must include:

1. This letter.
2. A statement typewritten in English detailing the relevant facts you wish to make known to the consular officer to consider in your case.
3. Any relevant documents to support your statement including a clear photocopy of all pages in your passport. Please do not send us your passport.
4. Documents showing sufficient financial resources for your intended stay in the U.S.

If you apply one year after this refusal, you may do so by scheduling an appointment for a personal interview or, if otherwise eligible, use one of our personal appearance waiver (PAW) programs. Please schedule an appointment by calling 060-700-2510. Be sure to bring all documents to your scheduled interview. Applicants who have been previously found ineligible for a visa under section 214(b) and qualify for a PAW may still be asked to appear for an interview.
